

Make your first trips out and about with family or friends who can support you and keep you company.

Visit your local breastfeeding group to get used to feeding outside of the house in the company of other breastfeeding women.

Choose a place to feed that welcomes breastfeeding and displays this sticker.